the first edition of this book taxation in ghana a fiscal policy tool for development is the product of considerable tax research from 1943 to 2018 spanning a period of 75 years and grounded in knowledge and concepts as well as applications through an extended period of tax practice teaching and learning combined with international exposure a lot of insights have been illuminated based on lessons learned and drawn from other countries including the united states of america to enrich the contents against the backdrop of the dynamic nature of taxation and fiscal policy most of the existing taxation books in ghana focused on tax practice so the purpose of this book is to bridge the taxation scholarship gap in addition to traditionally treated topics in most taxation books in ghana the novelty in this book is the inclusion of important topics on tax planning tax reforms and tax administration and many more as a result specific recommendations have been proffered for the consideration of policy makers in developing countries references and acts of parliament supported by appendices have been provided for further studies on the subject a true story of the first major oil discovery in ghana by mr george yaw owusu with m rutledge mcall published 2017 in the united states of america in pursuit of jubilee was used to enrich the discussion on petroleum oil and gas in chapter 48 of this textbook additionally apostle professor opoku onyinah of the church of pentecost has been presented for his phenomenal transformational leadership in africa in chapter 66 the book has been designed for 1 individual study 2 group study 3 lecture material 4 policy manual and 5 library or reference recent megatrends such as increasing complexity volatility internationalization and increased demand for transparency and compliance have changed the expectations towards the controlling function during his professional experience the author observed the increased expectations towards the controlling function if controlling is to maintain its influence in a company it needs to adapt to the changes in management expectations to outline how to increase the value added by the controlling function in multinational production companies four research questions were addressed and answered the questions which were answered were what does controlling involve and which factors influence the set up of the controlling function in a company how are the expectations towards the controlling function changing over time and what is its value contribution how can the controlling function add value to standard reporting and budgeting activities and how can the controlling function add value to reorganization activities this book examines the implications of geographical change for maritime jurisdiction under the law of the sea in a multistranded intervention it challenges existing accounts of the consequences of climate related change for entitlement to maritime space maritime limits and international maritime boundaries it also casts new light on the question of whether a loss of habitable land and large scale population displacement will precipitate a loss of territorial sovereignty and the legal extinction of affected states this study of the legal significance of geographical change is grounded in an in depth study of the role of geography in the law of the sea as well as offering a new perspective on the pressing question of how climate change will affect maritime jurisdiction territorial sovereignty and statehood the book contributes to the scholarship on maritime delimitation and international boundaries generally on land and at sea it includes an analysis of the principle of intertemporal law that suggests a useful framework for considering questions of stability and change in international law more broadly this rigorous and original study will be of value to anyone concerned with the implications of climate related change for maritime jurisdiction territorial sovereignty and statehood its broader analysis of the existing law and engagement with a range of doctrinal debates through the lens of the question of geographical change will be of interest to scholars and practitioners of the law of the sea the law of territory and the law relating to international boundaries

there is considerable national variation in the professionalization and status of the management accountant although researchers from different countries have contributed to our knowledge about tasks and roles we have limited insights into the development education and socio cultural influences in different countries and surprisingly little is known about the local and national contexts in which these roles are learned and performed this book bridges this research gap using two complementary perspectives the first part explores management accountants in a range of different national contexts providing information about country specific historical developments and educational standards as well as specific roles and tasks the second part focusses on important global developments that will increasingly impact management accountants in the future such as sustainability the financial crisis technology and changing roles by combining local context with a global overview this insightful volume provides an agenda for future research which will be of great interest to scholars and advanced students in management accounting throughout the world
