this study tackles the problem of the song of song s structure by beginning at the bottom the microstructure of the song rather than at the top by employing a new type of rhetorical method professor roberts defines each of the minimal structural units of the song by identifying the formal poetic features that mark its opening and closing coupled with the poetic features that create cohesion within it moving up the song s structural ladder larger units are identified with the same technique while this study does not identify an overall structure it does demonstrate how recognition of these formal structuring devices can help the interpreter define the structural units of the song with far greater precision the final chapter presents a catalog of these formal poetic features that typically mark the opening and closure of structural units in the song as well as those that effect cohesion within is a catalog that can be refined and enlarged by application of the same method to other poetic texts other exegetical insights abound professor roberts demonstrates a more highly structured pattern of the wasfs than has been recognized heretofore and proposes a new interpretation of the adjuration refrain he identifies a type of phonological anacrusis employed numerous times in the song and addresses almost every text critical issue in the song many of which are resolved by attention to poetic structuring devices winner of the c hugh holman award a central figure in twentieth century american literature robert penn warren 1905 1989 was appointed by the library of congress as the first poet laureate of the united states in 1985 although better known for his fiction especially his novel all the king s men it is mainly his poetry spanning sixty years fifteen volumes of verse and a wide range of styles that reveals warren to be one of america s foremost men of letters in this indispensable volume john burt warren s literary executor has assembled every poem warren ever published with the exception of brother to dragons including the many poems he published in the fugitive and other magazines as well as those that appeared in his small press works and broadsides burt has also exhaustively collated all of the published versions of warren s poems which in some cases appeared as many as six different times with substantive revisions in every line as well as his typescripts and proofs and since warren never seemed to reread any of his books without a pencil in his hand but has referred to Warren's personal library copies. This comprehensive edition also contains textual notes, lists of emendations, and explanatory notes. Warren was born and raised in Guthrie, Kentucky, where Southern agrarian values and a predilection for storytelling were ingrained in him. As a young boy, by 1925 when he graduated from Vanderbilt University, he was already the most promising of that exceptional set of poets and intellectuals known as the Fugitives. Warren devoted most of the 1940s and 1950s to writing prose and literary criticism, but from the late 1950s he composed primarily poetry, with each successive volume of verse that he penned demonstrating his rigorous and growing commitment to that genre. The mature visionary power and technical virtuosity of his work in the 1970s and early 1980s emanated from his strongly held belief that only insofar as the work of art establishes and expresses a self can it engage us. Many of Warren's later poems, which he deemed some of his best, rejoice in the possibilities of old age and the poet's ability for continually expanding in a vital process of definition, affirmation, revision, and growth—a process that is the image we may say of the life process.
