this is an accessible guide to being an excellent supervisor it includes practical examples and offers a model of supervision which has been tried and tested in the field this is a practical guide aimed at supervisors of research students it is written in a lively case study style and is designed to appeal to supervisors who need a quick fix and who have neither the time nor the inclination to read a more detailed in depth book on the subject such as supervising the doctorate there is a growing need for such a volume as the qaa postgraduate code of practice in the uk indicates that all new doctoral supervisors must be trained appropriately this book will be very suitable for such training courses the authors both come from a medical background so the book is likely to be particularly well recieved within scientfic and medical departments with contributions from senior trainers and clinicians who draw on both relevant research and their own experience this book is rooted in current best practice and provides a clear exposition of the main issues important to supervision this book is a timely review of scholarship in social work supervision re examining the state of knowledge research and practice and asking if it is time for a new paradigm for the field the contributors present a universal paradigm in social work around what we understand social work to be not only through its practice of supervision but also what this contributes to the challenge of any dominant ideas or ideals about the supervision agenda in an increasingly globalised social work context capturing new developments from different regions of the world the book shows how these can inform critical practice professional development and well being and have a wider impact on accountability effectiveness and work performance the book will be appreciated by people needing or using services novice or learner social workers and those responsible for training or educating in supervision knowledge and skills or preparing to take up this important role with applications for both academic research and practitioner based learning this book will help to ensure the best quality and supportive practice within the workforce and community it serves this book was originally published as a special issue of the european journal of social work supervisory leadership emphasizes leadership practices and covers the concepts principles and skills needed to be a successful supervisor this new well researched and comprehensive text describes the supervisor s work with teachers as moving from a deficit model helping to a collegial cooperative mentoring approach it also provides helpful connections that describe and support the role of supervisors in school culture the authors provide a view of contemporary supervisory practice with particular attention given to the importance of past practices the workplace and culture leadership qualities communication models and supervision processes and the process of change and decision making written in a language that is easily understood supervisory leadership provides an interactive realistic and meaningful learning experience that offers continuous opportunities for students to reflect upon their own supervisory leadership development supervision is an essential constituent of analytic and psychotherapy training and a crucial part of ongoing professional development for all practitioners in spite of this little formal theory about supervision has been developed and for the most part learning to supervise has progressed using a simple apprenticeship model supervising and being supervised aims to rectify this situation jan wiener richard mizen and jenny duckham draw together contributions from a number of experienced jungian analysts who supervise to explore key aspects of the supervisory experience with the aim of developing a theory for analytically based work part one explores the nature of the supervisor supervisee relationship part two looks at a number of the settings and applications of supervision and part three examines problems that might occur in supervision in the fourth and final part and drawing on the previous chapters the focus turns specifically to the challenges of developing a clear theory of supervision the authors have assembled some of the finest minds in the field of supervision studies to produce supervision as collaboration in the human services key aspects of a learning organization and the process of organizational learning are explored across the various human services social mental health health and aging making this an essential core text for graduate and undergraduate students of social work and counselling as well as for human services supervisors and practitioners this book presents a model of supervision that is based on both contemporary theory and research which is strongly contextualized to child and family social work it draws directly from analysis of in depth interviews with experienced and post graduate qualified supervisors and supervisees about what works in supervision these findings bring news of difference in relation to social work supervision offering hope inspiration and a contemporary model of supervisory practice master s thesis from the year 2018 in the subject pedagogy school pedagogics grade c kwame nkrumah university of science and technology institute of distance learning course educational innovations and leadership science language english abstract the success of any organization or institution has never been achieved inadvertently it is realized by putting in place necessary mechanisms among which supervision plays a fundamental role in all the processes this study was specifically conducted to assess the supervisory practices opted for by supervisors of shss in adansi education directorates in the ashanti region of ghana the study employed mixed method concurrent triangulation design involving both qualitative and quantitative data collection and analysis thus questionnaire and interview were the instruments used while headmasters teachers students and external circuit supervisors formed the population the study attested to the fact that effective instructional supervision both the external and particularly the internal types are sine qua non to the achievement of effective and efficient teaching and learning in secondary schools which in turn translate into higher students academic achievement the findings revealed that during supervision headmasters in particular and external supervisors assessed teachers scheme of work lesson plans instructional times punctuality attendance and methods of teachings in the classrooms they ensured that teachers had the necessary materials for teaching and organized in service training for teachers to promote effective teaching in their respective schools it was found that supervisory practices adopted by headmasters and external supervisors depended on performance of students in their terminal and external final exams the study also discovered that supervisory practices opted for by headmasters in particular and external supervisors improved teaching and learning process students performance in internal terminal and external final exams it was also revealed that there were inherent challenges posed by teachers students and government that confront supervision which needs to be urgently addressed through collaborative effort of all stakeholders for the achievement of quality education the study has recommended that contemporary supervisory models emphasising motivation and autonomy of teachers should be embraced for optimum teacher output to optimize students achievement this second edition of best practice in professional supervision is a fully updated and revised guide to being an excellent supervisor in the social care nursing counselling and allied health professions this field has developed rapidly in the past 10 years and this new edition contains essential updates reflecting the very latest research and practice the book covers basic skills the practicalities of forming and maintaining the supervision relationship and the organisational context and culture of supervision viewing supervision as a place for learning the book also considers how supervision can help practitioners to develop professional resilience and promote their own wellbeing despite the stresses of complex work environments it also includes specific chapters on supervision of clinical student placements and in child protection settings full of clinical case vignettes illustrating good practice this is an essential guide for all those undertaking supervision or supervision training offering a new and much needed approach to supervision practice good practice in supervision considers the need and format for successful supervision methods of effective implementation and difficulties frequently encountered the book includes many practical suggestions and examples which complement the sound theoretical base of the text

this title provides a definite guide to the subject of clinical supervision bringing together contributions from a well known team to map out policy practice training and research in the area britain has a fine tradition of writing about supervision practice this book connects to this by organising reflection around the practice taken from the author s sixteen years experience as a practitioner taking three broad sets of tasks of supervision as an organising frame the book weaves examples of professional experience with current research and other reflective writing from a broadly humanistic perspective it examines the developmental journey of a supervisor interested in the overlap of the personal and the professional since the publication of the first edition of this book supervision has become of even greater significance in health education and social care settings with continuing pace in the trend towards mandatory registration managed care and clinical governance this fully updated and expanded edition includes new chapters on issues of diversity and the managerial role of the supervisor in context packed with practical examples in the key areas of personal and professional development joyce scaife and her contributors draw on three decades of clinical experience to explore frequently encountered dilemmas including how supervisors facilitate learning the ethical bases of supervision creating and maintaining a good working alliance how supervisors can balance management and supervision roles working equitably in an increasingly diverse and pluralistic world supervision in clinical practice offers a range of suggestions for providing supervision that are stimulating creative and fun using methods that ensure safe and open practice it is an indispensable text for supervisors and supervisees who practice clinically in a range of professions including applied psychology counselling psychotherapy psychiatry nursing and social work drawing on original survey data reflective accounts and case studies of supervisory practice in different disciplines doctoral supervision and research culture explores the supervisor experience and demonstrates the craft compassion and consistency required of supervisors in responding to different researcher s needs based on empirical data and using the voice of research supervisors the authors throw a spotlight on the challenges and opportunities supervisors face in supporting doctoral researchers through to successful phd completion this book acts as an invitation to institutions funders industry and academics to review what and how they support phd provision and to elevate the status of supervision practice it shows how research cultures disciplinary institutional and individual affect the supervisory experience and highlight the challenges that supervisors face as well as the rewards that successful supervisory relationships bring it is also a celebration of the contribution that doctoral researchers and all those who support research make to society designed to provide opportunities for sharing of practice across disciplines and the sector doctoral supervision and research culture will be of interest to both new and experienced supervisors to staff and researcher developers in institutions and to funders policy makers and senior management in universities who seek to improve and enhance the supervisory experience for all agents
