qué mueve a un poeta a escribir en qué fija su mirada cuando lee en confesión de un granuja la conversación epistolar entre dos poetas jorge bustamante y robinson quintero sobre la atribución errada de unos versos del ruso sergí esenin sobrepasa esta contingencia y traza nuevos rumbos para responder a esas preguntas además muestra la manera como un escritor lee a otro escritor con cuidado con pasión con asombro y admiración sincera ante el trabajo esmerado porque sabe la ardua labor que hay detrás de cada verso y dispuesto a sorprenderse con los nuevos sentidos de un poema aunque lo haya leído muchas veces e incluso memorizado o a entrever que en un solo verso como dice uno de los corresponsales esté la poesía entera fragmentos encuentros breves son los que el lector tendrá con el personaje narrador de este relato escuchará entonces a la par con los hechos divagaciones enriquecidas con el dominio de las palabras y de sus múltiples sentidos y casi olvidará el apremio que impone el título de esta historia esa voz le contará momentos que la han marcado y le han permitido a una edad en la que dicen no debería haber nada por descubrir dentro de sí mismo encontrar y aceptar una atracción por lo no resuelto lo no definido lo no binario lo que ha decidido vivir en el borde son pasajes de un viaje que ya parece llegar a su fin porque hay otros que vienen y que ese narrador le cuenta al lector al decir de su voz mientras llegan por mí aunque abordan asuntos propios de la cotidianidad como el amor y el desamor la pérdida de seres queridos y los accidentes estos cuentos finalistas del premio cámara de comercio de medellín le proponen al lector una mirada distinta una narración que hace del lenguaje un atributo en sí mismo y no solo una vía para mostrar hechos por eso en este libro además de referencias y homenajes estilísticos y argumentales a otras obras literarias hay humor y hay juego this volume shifts the focus from violence to peace studies in latin america and sheds light on how social groups and individuals resist to violence and strive to create peaceful or at least less violent conditions of conviviality drawing on social sciences history and anthropology but also on cultural literary and film studies the book examines the role of social mobilizations civic activism and cultural artistic initiatives as responses to the crisis of violence which the state is unable or unwilling to address in this sense it debates what a culture of peace could mean in latin america divided into four chapters chapter 1 discusses peace from an epistemological and philosophical perspective in chapter 2 the authors discuss the contours of a culture of peace with a particular focus on literary and cinematic narratives chapter 3 analyses the public debate about the role of the state in peace processes in the case of costa rica central america chapter 4 examines the importance of civil society activities in peace processes peace in latin america is written for a wide and diverse audience that includes researchers professors specialists students civil society activists and political actors not only from latin america but from all over the world
