excerpt from the teaching of geometry a book upon the teaching of geometry may be planned in divers ways it may be written to exploit a new theory of geometry or a new method of presenting the science as we already have it on the other hand it may be ultraconservative making a plea for the ancient teaching and the ancient geometry it may be prepared for the purpose of setting forth the work as it now is or with the tempting but dangerous idea of prophecy it may appeal to the iconoclast by its spirit of destruction or to the disciples of laissez faire by its spirit of conserving what the past has bequeathed it may be written for the few who always lead or think they lead or for the many who are ranked by the few as followers and in view of these varied pathways into the joint domain of geometry and education a writer may well afford to pause before he sets his pen to paper and to decide with care the route that he will take at present in america we have a fairly well defined body of matter in geometry and this occupies a fairly well defined place in the curriculum there are not wanting many earnest teachers who would change both the matter and the place in a very radical fashion there are not wanting others also many in number who are content with things as they find them about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works the vocational archetype stands behind the character of the teacher s personality focusing lessons on both the intellectual and personality development of students teachers discover the vocational archetype in themselves through trial and error the teacher student relationship in the autonomy of the classroom inspires the mind and nurtures the character of the soul however consciousness of mind and soul are different soul consciousness has an imagistic nature that can see the spiritual archetype that stands behind the individual personality the child archetype is depicted in many cultures as the divine child the archetype of the adolescent is the hero the vocational archetype of the teacher is expressed in personality and character nurturing the archetypal characteristics in the personalities of the students however many teachers have lost touch with the archetypal characteristics of their vocation and must seek the vocational archetype on their own through trial and error this book is a portrait of one teacher's process of seeking the vocational archetype experiences with students are a major part of the process the other part is to find and defend a classroom philosophy that evokes the teacher archetype in front of the students their parents and the administration the author will inspire encourage and empower teachers who are seeking the vocational archetype in themselves and give voice to the vocational archetype in our school communities and in our culture
