the quest for an inclusive and independent state has been at the center of the palestinian national struggle for a very long time this book critically reexamines this quest by exploring the meaning of palestinian statehood and the challenges that face alternative models to it today rethinking statehood in palestine gives prominence to a young set of diverse palestinian scholars both men and women to show how notions of citizenship sovereignty and nationhood are being currently rethought within the broader context of decolonization bringing forth critical and multifaceted engagements with what palestinian self determination entails within a larger regional context this groundbreaking book sets the terms of debate for the future of palestine beyond partition this work focuses on the political philosophy and the constitutional transformation of the contradiction between two major nations in one land namely palestine israel while the notion of the nation state has permeated the levant since the 1917 british crusade into jerusalem the organic demographic actuality of the country s population is incompatible with the dominance of one nation in one land with the subsequent degeneration into the series of war crimes that began in 1947 to move away from this conception of a zionist state requires another methodology that offers an alternative to the domination of one nation by another that is rationalized by the myths of nation building promoted by the nationalist school of thought with an approach that is inter national in the root meaning of the term this book fuses the jewish bundist concept of national cultural autonomy with the process of constituent assemblies as an expression of the parallel civil societies that become an organic social construction codified in a federal constitution by avoiding the notion of the nation state this exit may then be named the no state solution this book assesses the legal and practical independence of the palestinian constitutional court since the coup in july 2007 that brought the fatah regime to power in the west bank it argues that the court has failed to perform its fundamental function namely upholding the basic law in the face of authoritarian actions by that regime and that it is highly unlikely to resolve this problem while the state of emergency continues this book offers a case study on how constitutional courts in authoritarian regimes fail to fulfil and even obstruct the promises of rights protections contained in constitutional texts moreover it provides the first english language study that covers the entire collection of judgments and interpretations issued by that court until the first amendment of its law in october 2017 and thus can be considered one of the most authoritative studies on a court in an authoritarian arab regime for a left committed to fighting against colonisation imperialism and oppression the palestinian struggle for liberation has been an inspiration as well as an important political question yet the so called conflict between israel and palestine is often portrayed as impossibly complex that reinforces the unjust status quo by paralysing opponents of israel s crimes the story of palestine provides a much needed introduction to the history of palestinian oppression and resistance it cuts through the lies told by politicians and media outlets and stands uncompromisingly on the side of the palestinian people it also presents a uniquely socialist strategy for liberation based on a mass revolutionary movement of workers and the poor across the region

Under the Israeli occupation of the 70s and 80s, writers in Gaza had to go to considerable lengths to ever have a chance of seeing their work in print. Manuscripts were written out longhand, invariably under pseudonyms, and smuggled out of the Strip to Jerusalem, Cairo, or Beirut, where they then had to be typed up. Consequently, fiction grew shorter, novels became novellas, and short stories flourished as the city's form of choice. Indeed, to Palestinians elsewhere, Gaza became known as the exporter of oranges and short stories. This anthology brings together some of the pioneers of the Gazan short story from that era, as well as younger exponents of the form, with ten stories that offer glimpses of life in the Strip that go beyond the global media headlines: stories of anxiety, oppression, and violence, but also of resilience and hope of what it means to be a Palestinian and how that identity is continually being reforged. Stories of ordinary characters struggling to live with dignity in what many have called the largest prison in the world.

In 1948, at the age of nine, the author, a Palestinian Arab, was relocated with her family from Jerusalem to a largely Jewish neighborhood in London, England.
